HI-BILD WATERBASED CATALYZED EPOXY

High film build,
one coat
acrylic epoxy.

Perfect Coating for High-Traffic Areas

Pro Industrial™ Hi-Bild Waterbased Catalyzed Epoxy provides excellent performance and durability with its high build properties. It is tough enough for use on a variety of high-traffic interior and exterior surfaces, and versatile enough to be applied on primed steel, masonry, concrete, plaster, drywall or wood. This two-component waterbased acrylic epoxy will save you time and labor by replacing a two coat system with a one coat system that achieves up to 6 mils dry in one coat. Available in a high luster or low luster finish.

Performance Where You Need It Most

Pro Industrial™ Hi-Bild Waterbased Catalyzed Epoxy is engineered for surfaces where performance and durability are most essential. It meets the demands of high-maintenance, high-traffic commercial and institutional settings, like stadiums, schools, prisons, hospitals, water treatment plants and USDA-inspected facilities. Its high-film build capability gives it a durable, tile-like finish, while its low-VOC and low-odor make it safe for interior and exterior application.
